"Through these doors pass the future leaders of our nation."

The whole object of education is, or should be, to develop mind. The mind should be a thing that works. It should be able to pass judgment on events as they arise, make decisions.

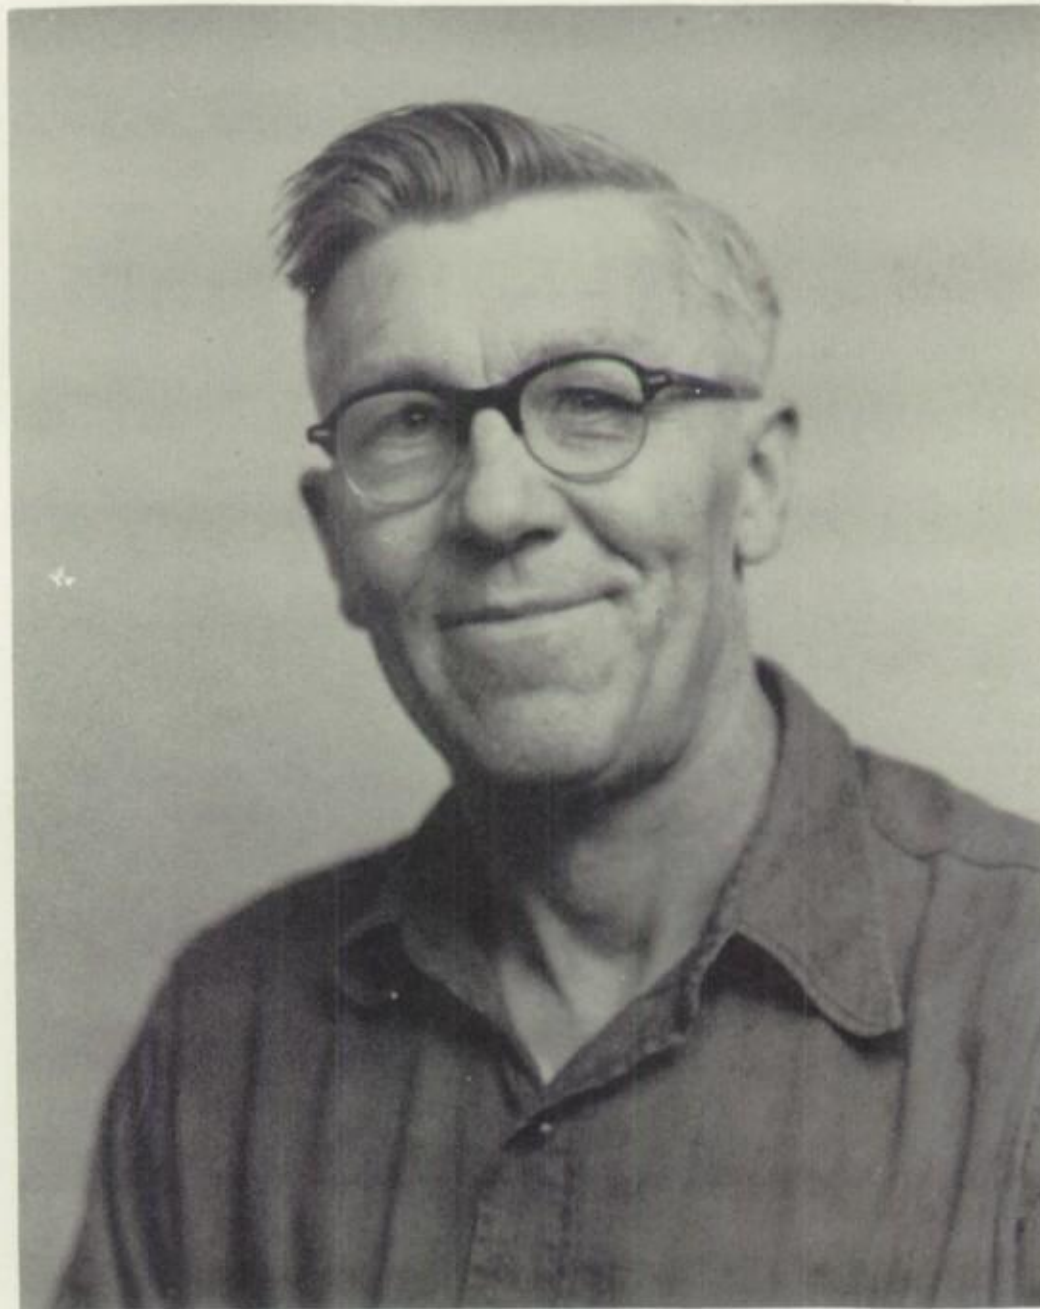

Sherwood Anderson

The more a man is educated, the more it is necessary, for the welfare of the State, to instruct him how to make a proper use of his talents. Education is like a double-edged sword. It may be turned to dangerous usages if it is not properly handled.

Wu Ting-Fang

In Memoriam

Harry Krueger

Mr. Krueger started working at Harris-Elmore the day his daughter entered school and passed away the day his grandson entered.

He was always ready and willing to take a sick student home. The choruses, band, and football and basketball boys will always remember his cheerful attitude and unfailing spirit on the bus trips to different events.

His custodianship at Harris-Elmore covered a period of 23 years. Prior to his working at the school he was part owner of the H & H garage in Elmore.

At the age of 57, Mr. Krueger passed away quite suddenly Tuesday evening, September 4, 1956, at Toledo Hospital.

Graduates:

Congratulations upon your graduation. This is not the end; it is only the beginning. Graduation is the passing from life's school into the school of life. Regardless of the size of your graduating class or town it isn't what you leave, but where you are going and where you arrive that counts.

You represent youth standing on the threshold of accomplishments. You look back to the past for experienced knowledge to guide you and forward into tomorrow to try your skill. Your education, the foundation build here in Harris-Elmore School, will be with you forever.

Best Wishes

Class History

The title of our class song has much significance for this year's 42 graduating seniors. "Moments to Remember" -- yes, those are the "intangible souvenirs" of our twelve years of school which have been given to us by the faculty, administration, and students of Harris-Elmore.

We remember that September morning in 1945 when 42 well-scrubbed boys and girls walked through the door of that mysterious building called the schoolhouse and began the portion of their education which was to terminate in 1957. How far off that date seemed! However, the years have flown by, and now, as seniors, we look back in time to the years we have spent in the new very familiar building.

Under the watchful eyes of Miss Grace Myers, Mrs. Mildred Arnold, Miss Mattie Heckman, Mrs. Mabel Rozine, Mrs. Garnet Weber, and Mrs. Helen Mercer, we successfully finished the first six years of our schooling. We often chuckle over memories of cowboy and Indian games, our second grade kitchen band, our production of The Princess Who Couldn't Cry, spelling contests, our ability to fight about any little thing, and the arts and crafts we all loved. We were proud to sing at the dedication of the new auditorium in 1951.

Our memories of the seventh and eighth grades are of the usual "tween-age" activities -- changing classes, more homework, our first dances, and parties. In the seventh grade the class held a Halloween party at Lowell Knieriem's home and gave the Thanksgiving assembly. In the eighth grade we had a Christmas party at Bill Kuhlman's home (it was here that we realized what mistletoe was for!) and gave another successful assembly. Both years we enjoyed the annual 7-8 grade party. It was in this period that the class members began to be recognized for their scholastic, athletic, and musical abilities.

As freshmen we came back to school to find that eight students from Benton Township had joined us for the remaining four years. This year our Halloween party was at Janet Kuhlman's farm. We had many hearty laughs over the ridiculous outfits those initiated into G.A.A. and F.F.A. wore to school. We sponsored a successful dance and gave an assembly entitled "The Millionaire Family."

The sophomore year ranks high in our memories because we had home room in study hall with the junior class of that year. Again this year we sponsored a dance and gave an assembly entitled "A Day in the Life of a Typical Harris-Elmore Student."

We returned as juniors flashing the class rings we had received during the summer. Our play was entitled A Ghost On The Loose. We remember also the many hours we spent in the lower halls preparing decorations for the Junior-Senior Prom, for which we chose the theme Neptune's Garden. Of course the evening of the Prom was memorable in itself.

The latest memories we have are those from our senior year. Although we were always an active class, this year seemed busier than ever. We enjoyed preparing and presenting the play, Ten O'Clock Scholar. The Prom, Fairyland Romance, given in our honor, was an unforgettable evening. We have enjoyed choosing pictures, invitations, namecards, and all the other things essential to graduation. The Class of 1957 leaves behind it an outstanding record of achievement, both in scholastic and extra-curricular fields. However, we will also be remembered for our ability to get into mischief and to get ourselves out of the punishment for mischief done!

Yes, we have many moments to remember, and the ones which will probably remain utmost in our minds will be those of baccalaureate and commencement exercises of this year. Although we have the same number in the class now as we had in the first grade, only 18 of the original class will graduate this year. Our class motto states our feelings at this time -- "The past forever gone, the future still our own."

Class Will

- I, Alice Avers, will my ability to throw away master copies to Lois Avers..
 - I, James Bolander, will my love for Mr. Rymer's physics classes to Jane Damschroder.
 - I, Trinidad Cuevas, will my bashfulness to Katherine Mireles.
 - I, Linden Damschroder, will my ability to work in shop to Warren Schlievert, hoping he gets more done next year.
 - I, Larry Deacon, will my flat top to Sandra Hesselbart.
 - I, Jane Deitemyer, will my ability to stay in high school 5 years to Gretchen Minning.
 - I, James Derickson, will my ability to "rock & roll" to Francis Widman.
 - I, Tom Dolph, will my "Elvis" shirt to Susan Schwemberger.
 - I, Carol Fondessy, will the presents from my sisters boyfriend to Shirley Damschroder.
 - I, Shirley Griffin, will my ability to high jump to Sue Arndt.
 - I, Carol Guth, will all my demerits and ability to get demoted in band to Jim Klickman, hoping he makes as much progress as I did.
 - I, Nancy Haar, will my height of 5'8" and dark hair to Emily Fondessy.
 - I, Beatrice Hetrick, and I, Barbara Moellman, will our shortness of stature to Gary Anderson, so he can get a different outlook on life.
 - I, Karen Hetrick, will my position as the superintendent's daughter to Beth Brandes, hoping she carries the responsibility as carefully as I have.
 - I, Karen Jacobs, will one slightly used reducing machine to Jim Holland, hoping he get more use out of it than I did.
 - I, Patti James, will my safe driving record to Loren Sampson, hoping he will not run over as many garbage cans as I did.
 - I, Milan Kardatzke, will my job as Student Council President to Jim Draeger.
 - I, Miles Kardatzke, will my clean football playing to Jerry Krueger, hoping he enjoys it as much as I have.
 - I, Nyle Kardatzke, will a pin curl Toni to Russell Furstnau, hoping he has more use for it than I did.
 - I, Lowell Knieriem, will my knowledge of agriculture to Daryl Bouck, hoping that he will go far.
 - I, Bill Kuhlman, will to Don Lauer my nightly excursions to Benton-Carrol Road, hoping he will enjoy the Oak Harbor majorettes as much as I did.
 - I, Janet Kuhlman, will my hope of being a secretary to Melvin Giesler, knowing he will go far in that field.
 - I, Robert Kuhlman, will my ability to see over things instead of through them to Beverly Flick.
 - I, Ruth Ann Longenecker, will my ability to hit high B to Dennis Haar, hoping he will succeed as I have.
 - I, Barbara Magsig, will my ability to be the only senior girl to take physics to Murette Newton, hoping she will have as much fun as I have.
 - I, John Morris, will one football shoe to Alice Bay knowing it will fit perfectly.
 - I, Marilyn Nissen, will my middle name Maybella, to Rosemary Croll hoping she enjoys using it more than I do.
 - I, Rex Ohl, will my ability to make ladies purses to Dennis Draper, hoping he finds more uses for them than I did.
 - I, Judy Owen, and I, Lisa Sparkes, will our love of calesthenics to Juanita Barron, hoping she carries on next year in our places.
 - I, Douglas Pickard, will my interest in Trowbridge to Richard Zunk, hoping he has as much fun as I wish I would have had.
 - I, Faye Rothert, will my interest in '57 Fords and Genoa to Ann Nelson, hoping she succeeds where I leave off.
 - I, Shirley Sahr, will my blue eyes and freckles to Barb Damschroder.
 - I, Lyle Schlievert, will my butch haircut to Twyla Wheatley.
 - I, Lynda Semrock, will my ability to make fast change at my cafeteria job to Katherine Barkhau.
 - I, John Votaw, will my ability to get an appointment to a Government Academy to Jim Owen.
 - I, Robert Waterman, will my appreciation of music to Sharon Helmecei.
 - I, Floyd Widmer, will my weekend excursions to the Steak House to Jim Magsig, hoping he enjoys them as much as I did.
 - I, Jo Ann Widmer, will my ability to become engaged the summer before my senior year to Susie Wood and Joyce Miller. Good luck, girls.
 - I, Alan Witt will my typing practice set to Dave Haar and lots of luck.
 - I, Daniel Wood will my bleached hair to Butch Lemke and I hope it attracts girls for him like it did for me.
- We, the Senior Class hereby bequeath to our Royal Faculty, our good behavior and awareness for the bells.

Class Prophecy

We are now entering Elmore in the year 1977. We are returning to see the success of our fellow classmates in their various jobs.

On the outskirts of town, we see Larry Deacon running through the streets with Jane Deitemyer right behind him. But things are not what they seem. Behind them is an angry crowd running in the same direction and with intent to do harm to Larry and Jane. It seems Larry Deacon is in the steal trade. He steals all day and trades it by night. Jane Deitemyer is his defense attorney.

After walking a short distance down the street, we see a huge building. This is Jim Derickson's shoe emporium. Jim got his start as a cobbler specializing in engineer boots and blue suede shoes.

We now buy a paper and find that Patti James, a professional widow whose eighth husband has bitten the dust, is to be married to Milan Kardatzke, a professional widower who has left 11 wives. Of course, Jim Bolander has made Milan a gift of 40 copies of his earth-shaking book, 99 WAYS TO OUTSMART A PROFESSIONAL WIDOW. In charge of the ceremony is Justice of the Peace, Bud Widmer, who has made quite a name for himself in performing weddings.

On the next page of the paper, we see that Alice Avers has again saved the day with her skill and ingenuity. Alice, it seems, set out to become an airline stewardess, but instead became a smoke jumper.

Just below this is an article telling of the latest findings of the renowned nuclear physicist, Ruth Ann Longenecker.

On the next page we see a picture that is strangely familiar. Looking close we see that the picture is of Jo Ann Widmer, the new model for the picture on the Old Dutch cans. Business is said to be booming now.

Turning to the funny section, we see cartoons by the famous Alan Witt, who has nearly reached his Witt's end trying to think up funny gags. Also on this page are works by Rex Ohl. Rex always wanted to be a poet, but he could never get his words to rhyme. Then he took up cartooning and has learned to make his pictures rhyme. Don't ask how this is done; it's all in the unforeseeable future.

Now as we return to our car, we notice something unusual about the traffic on the streets of Elmore. The reason is a brilliant innovation by Douglas Pickard. His idea was to put cement tires on cars and have rubber roads. This saves tires.

We now enter the business establishment of Miles Kardatzke. Miles has invented and patented a device that does nothing, therefore, can be used for loafing. He invites us into his office to watch some of our classmates on the 2 Million Yen Question. The program is sponsored by Barbara Magsig, a shorterella technician. Barbara probably got her idea from Lowell Knieriem, the renowned slenderella technician.

The 2 Million Yen Question is followed by a mystery story directed by Mrs. Dora Coleman. The key to the story is a device invented by Robert Kuhlman which is a sort of burglar alarm that follows the burglar into the house, sneaks up behind him, taps him on the shoulder, and in a loud, clear voice exclaims, and we quote, "Boo!" This show is presented by the Faye Rothert school of hypnotism. The school is now running a senatorial investigation on the financial affairs of Bridey Murphey.

After this, we decide we have watched enough television and Miles has told us that some of our classmates can be found around the old school, so we summon enough courage to go to the salt mines.

In the school yard, we see Karen Jacobs practicing pole vaulting. Karen holds the world champion pole vault championship having pole-vaulted 43 feet on a mandolin pick.

As we wander out to the stadium, we see Tom Dolph practicing. As you all know, Tom was the one who devised the method for flying by flapping his arms. However, this type of flying is very exerting and should not be attempted by men over 6.

We now enter the auditorium of the pit and here we see Barbara Moellman working out. Barbara, we learn, is a judo instructor in the United States Marines. She is on furlough now and trying to keep in shape.

Just as we leave, a terrifically loud burst of music reverberates through the auditorium, then it picks up momentum and loudness till it becomes a form of the old fashioned, pardon the expression, Rock 'n' Roll. On taking a closer look, we see that it is Beatrice Hetrick, who is working hard to revive, pardon the expression, Rock 'n' Roll. Working along with Beatrice is Lynda Semrock, now a popular hillbilly singer. She got her ideas for a singing style from her visits to the Metropolitan Opera.

Class Prophecy

As soon as we can recover from this heavy blow, we venture into the main part of the school. As we enter the lower hall, a blood curdling scream greets us. We run down the hall and find in a small room, Danny Wood, who was given detention his last day of school. Under the new administration, headed by Mr. Herbert Katko, Danny's release date was postponed until this spring. In the room with Danny is a henchman of Katko's, a man who calls himself Mr. Clarence Egert. This fellow shares the Katdo man's joy in watching students on detention suffer.

From Nyle Kardatzke, who is expecting to graduate this spring, we learn that Danny is to be released into the custody of Shirley Sahr, who runs a day nursery. This place is hoped to settle Danny's shattered nerves. Nyle hopes to secure a position at the Elmore bowling alley upon graduating.

After this shocking bit of education, we find it necessary to go outside for some fresh air. As we are cleared by the guards at the outside gate we see a crowd milling around a small platform on which a man is standing giving a fiery speech. We elbow our way through the crowd and find that the speech-maker is our fellow classmate, John Votaw. John is an avid vegetarian and is now giving a well demonstrated speech on the evils of eating meat. John reminds us to be sure to stop at his barbecue before leaving Elmore.

The crowd is growing fast so we jump in our car and start for the downtown area again. On the way down, we see that we are low on gas, so we stop at a prosperous looking gas station. While our tank is being filled, we notice one of our classmates inside. We go inside and find Trinidad Cuevas, manager of the station. We learn from one of the attendants that Trinidad is an expert at changing the tires on army tanks. Right next door is Nancy Haar's fender and body repair shop. It is rumored that she works in collaboration with ex-driver training teacher, Mr. Bob Netz. People say he is providing her with business.

Our tank is now full and we pull out. After traveling a short distance down the street, we see a huge crowd gathering around the auction stand. In the center of the crowd is the world-famous auctioneer, Carol Fondessy. Carol once got a farmer so confused that he sold his entire estate for a large family economy size of cracker jacks. Here, we encounter two more of our classmates. They are the farmer, Robert Waterman, who has a huge poultry ranch entirely devoted to being a refuge for the remaining world population of albatrosses. The other classmate involved was Linden Damschroder. He was the prize in the box of cracker jacks.

At the auction, we see Janet Kuhlman. She tells us that she studied in universities all over the world for 17 years and finally decided to become a housewife. She is very successful, but does not claim to be a successful as Lisa Sparkes, who has six little sparks who, she says, often provide her with a very hot time.

Now the crowd begins to shift and we see a parade of soldiers coming down the street. We run out and see that the rather mean looking drill sergeant with the bull whip is our classmate Judy Owen. When Judy spots us she gives us a cold glare and then gives us the following advice: "Discipline is the best policy."

As we walk a few blocks down the street, we see the new Elmore Museum of Anything That Might Attract Attention. The plaque on the front says the building was sponsored by the great painter, Lyle Schlievert. Lyle has done some rather famous paintings including Dr. Charles Rymer's Mother's Barn, used primarily by Dr. Rymers for the storage of tardy slips he has required of students. This has become quite a hobby (or habit) with Dr. Rymers. All guests to the estate are shown through the Tardy Slip Museum. All the slips have an interesting history.

Back to the museum. We walked around in Lyle's museum for some time before we came to the room where Marilyn Nissen is giving lessons. Marilyn has become a successful ventriloquist and is hoping to have some successful students such as Catherine Anstead and Ray Goetschius have been.

In the next room, we find Carol Guth, a color technician and artist. Carol was the artist who developed the other shade of black.

At the end of the hall, we find Shirley Griffin, delivering a lecture on the trials and tribulations of the Siberian muck-ox louse.

In an isolated room, we find Karen Hetrick hard at work writing a book to be titled Ivanhoe. This is expected to be a great seller.

As we are leaving the museum we happen to bump into John Morris, who has been janitor of the place for the past 20 years. We stop to have a chat with him and he agrees with us that the Senior Class of '57 has been quite a successful class.

Graduation

Left - Our Superintendent, Mr. Hetrick, addressed the class with a very appropriate and interesting talk and then presented the class to the President of the Board of Education, Mr. Beck, to receive their diplomas. At this point the solemn class is probably reliving old memories.

Left - The Senior Class marches out of the school auditorium to the Recessional played by the Harris-Elmore Band. At first, the class had some problems about marching, but everything went very well on Graduation Night.

Left - Rev. Bates of Elmore delivered the Invocation at the beginning of the service. Our guest speaker, Dr. Clyde Hisson, inspired the class with his speech based on the wrecking bar. The Benediction was delivered by Rev. Schmidt of Elmore.

The Harris-Elmore G.A.A. is open to any high school girl. The G.A.A. gave a dance on December 15, 1956. It was called "Snow Ball." Queen Joyce Miller and her attendants, Patti James and Beverly Flick, reigned during the dance.

The athletic program was not too successful because the gym was not often available for practice. The basketball team played three games, but it was defeated each time.

The F.F.A. Chapter has been very active this past year which was proved by the fact that they won the State Superior Chapter Award. They have carried on a wide variety of activities ranging from educational and recreational activities within the chapter to public service projects for the community.

Last June the Elmore Chapter had several boys at the State F.F.A. Convention and judging contest; this included two delegates, a dairy team, a general livestock team, a poultry team, and Lowell Knieriem was a member of the Farm Equipment Team. Other activities during the summer included a beach party and a trip to Cleveland to see a ball game.

In the fall the chapter made cider and sold it at the Oak Harbor Fair. Also several members exhibited projects at the fair. The chapter held a scrap drive, a hayride, sent CARE packages, sponsored a Halloween dance, and carried on a farm safety campaign. The pest hunt took place and lasted till the end of Christmas vacation.

Jr. Red Cross Council

The Junior Red Cross Council is composed of a boy and a girl from each grade from 7-12.

The council sponsored the Junior Red Cross Drive in November. The school had a 100% enrollment. Red Cross gift boxes were filled and sent to children in foreign countries all over the world.

Rosemary Croll was the delegate from our school who attended the Junior Red Cross training center at Miami University at Oxford, Ohio in July.

The 1957 Versatile Club included 19 senior girls and Mrs. Dora Coleman as their sponsor. They met in their homes the first Monday of each month.

Versatile pins were purchased. Dues were established. The girls had charge of selling noon refreshments in the cafeteria. Peanut crunch and mints were sold. They sponsored a dance after the Elmore-Lake basketball game. To promote school spirit, we made and sold pom-poms to be used at the basketball tournament.

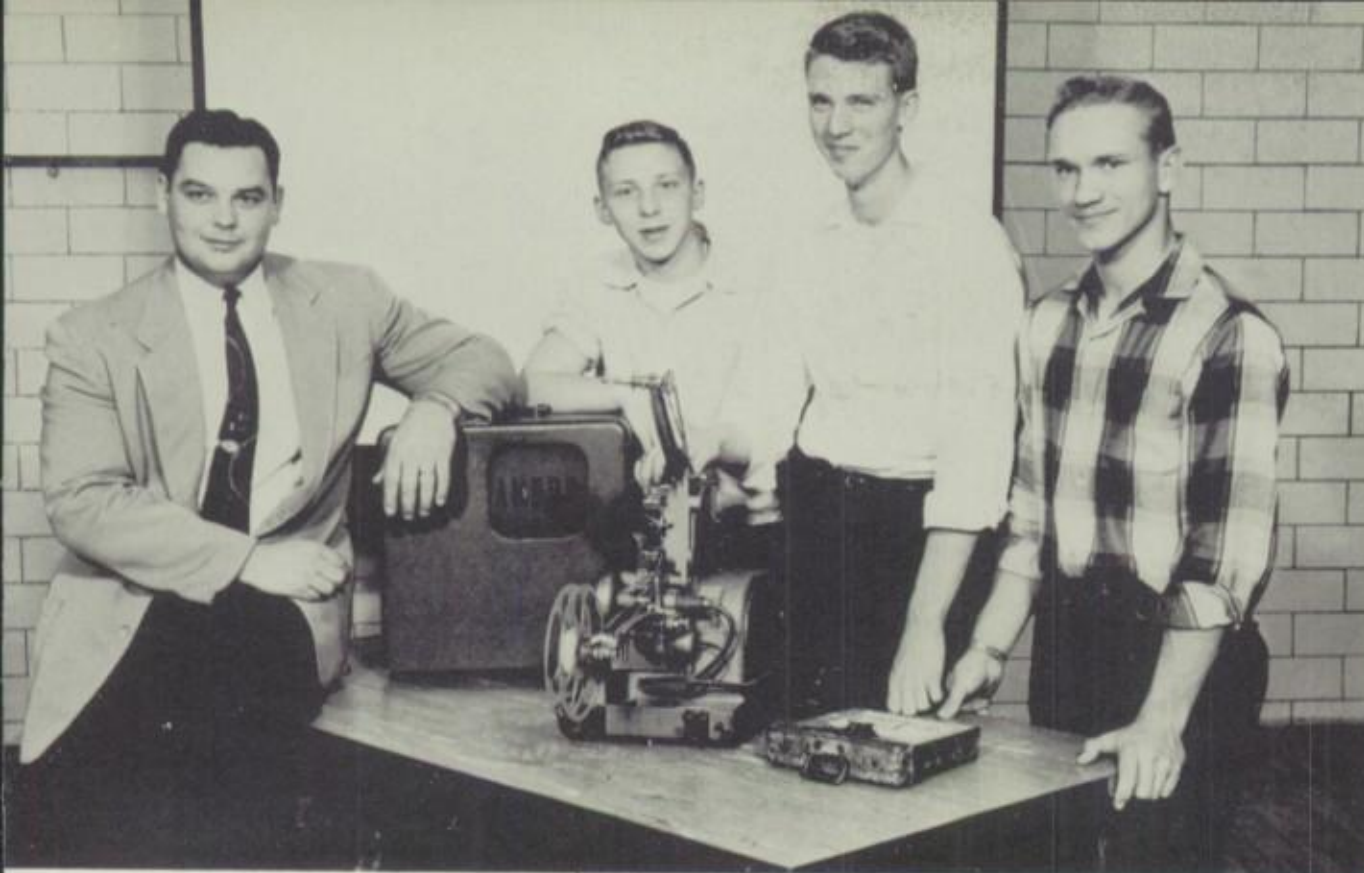

Two girls received Versatile Alumnae scholarships of $200 each.

The climax of the club was the celebrating of 20 years of Versatile at the annual Versatile Alumnae Banquet held May 18 with the junior girls being guests at the affair.

Our Coaching Staff

We of Harris-Elmore High School are very proud of the fine records set by our athletic squads this year. Credit should be given where credit is due. A large portion of this credit belongs to the coaches, who through hard work and patience have developed winning teams. These men also help to form the character of their boys by teaching them fair play and co-operation.

Lettermen

Mr. Netz

Rex Ohl Captain

Milan Kardatzke . Co-Captain

Mr. Katko

Rex Ohl - Rex was Captain and Fullback of the squad. He was a hard-driving back and a hardhitting defensive line-backer.

Miles Kardatzke - This was Miles's first year out for football and proved good enough to be a regular. He was an aggressive and hard-hitting man on defense.

Bud Widmer - Bud was a very effective blocker and was a good pulling-guard. He held down a regular position on the team.

Milan Kardatzke - Milan held down and end position on the squad and was elected Co-Captain. Milan was very fast on his feet, snaring some very difficult passes.

Don Lauer - Don was a hard-hitting line-backer and was a valuable defense man. He was a hard blocker and a good pass receiver on offense.

Danny Wood - Dan was the Senior quarterback on offense and played safety or half on defense. He called plays well and did a good job of quarterbacking.

Lettermen

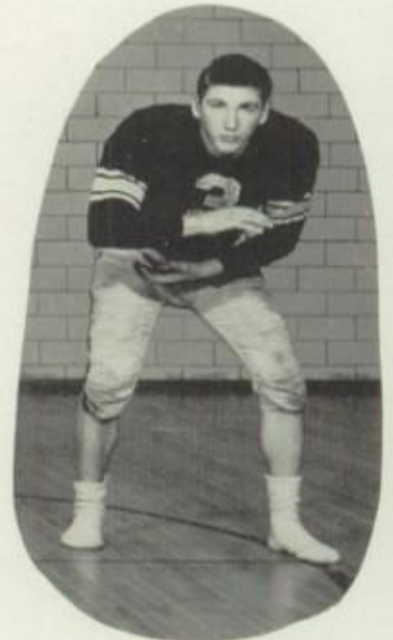

Elmore vs. Oak Harbor

Jim Derickson - Jim was a hard-hitting Senior halfback. He played very well at a defensive halfback position.

Linden Damschroder - Linden was used as a spare player. He played very well and was a dependable man whenever he was needed.

Lowell Knieriern - Lowell was a good hard-driving back who filled his position as halfback better than average. He also played defensive middle line-backer.

Jerry Krueger - Jerry filled the positions of quarterback and halfback. He was a fast and shifty runner who should have a good year next season.

Harold Semrock - Harold was a speedy Sophomore halfback who will be an asset to the team in years to come. He averaged 7 yds. per carry this year.

David Haar - As Junior halfback, Dave was a good runner and a hard-hitting back for his size. He played a good defensive halfback.

Lettermen

Gary Anderson - Hard blocking and aggressive playing were Gary's specialties. He was a regular tackle this year and should do very well next season.

Galen Lemke - Galen played mostly on defense as an end. He did very well for his first year out and should get a regular position next year.

Jim Bolander - Jim was a regular guard this year. He was a very effective blocker and was a dependable man at guard position.

Russell Furstnau - As a Junior spare for end position, Russ proved to be a good blocker and an aggressive player. He will be out for another year.

John Morris - John held down the regular center position this year. He proved to be a very capable blocker and a good man at center.

Edgar Buck - Edgar was a hard-hitting tackle and an able player. He played very well for a Sophomore.

BARRETT BATES - (Sophomore) 5'10", 130 lbs., Guard. This is Barrett's first year with our team. His excellent footwork, fast reflexes, and faking enabled him to step into the roll of playmaker and floor leader; an accomplishment extremely rare for a sophomore. His perfect attitude and "coachableness" coupled with his ability to secure a "clutch" basket when the need arose made him a valuable asset to the team. Barrett was not a "gunner," but passed off to a teammate with a better shot. He compiled an 18 pt. per game average and led the team in shooting percentage (59%) and foul shot percentage (65%). His defensive ability was superb as time and again he was given the toughest opponent to guard and kept his points down. Barrett made the All-Sandusky Bay Conference first team.

BILL KUHLMAN - (Senior) 6'3", 210 lbs., Center-Forward. This was Bill's third year of varsity competition. Bill has the best "shooting eye" on the squad compiling an average of 25 pts. per game. In his 3 years of varsity ball he compiled a total of 933 pts. for 20 pt. average. Bill led the team in rebounds (defensive) getting 16 per game. His highest output was 28 rebounds in the Gibsonburg game. Bill's ability to hit long shots coupled with his hard-driving ability made him a constant threat to all our opponents. He was an all-around player being adept as forward, center, or guard. His passing ability created many fast break situations. Bill was placed on the All-District Tournament first team as center. He was listed as All-Ohio Honorable Mention in the "A" classification of the State. Bill led the Sandusky Bay Conference in scoring and rebounding and was placed on the All-SBC second team.

REX OHL - (Senior) 5'11", 180 lbs., Guard. This was Rex's third year on the varsity squad. Rex had the unusual ability to never "blow up" no matter what the situation in the game. Although Rex had a good shooting, percentage (44%), he elected to pass off to a boy in a better position. He finished the season averaging 10 pts. per game and did well on rebounds. His ball handling and defensive ability to stop the fastbreak made him a valuable asset to the team.

GALEN LEMKE - (Junior) 6'0", 175 lbs., Guard-Forward. Galen developed into a scoring threat toward the close of the season averaging 13 pts. per game. Against Lakeside, he scored 28 pts. on drive-ins off the fast break. His defensive ability was excellent. His quiet, determined attitude pulled many a game out of the fire and gained the respect of his teammates.

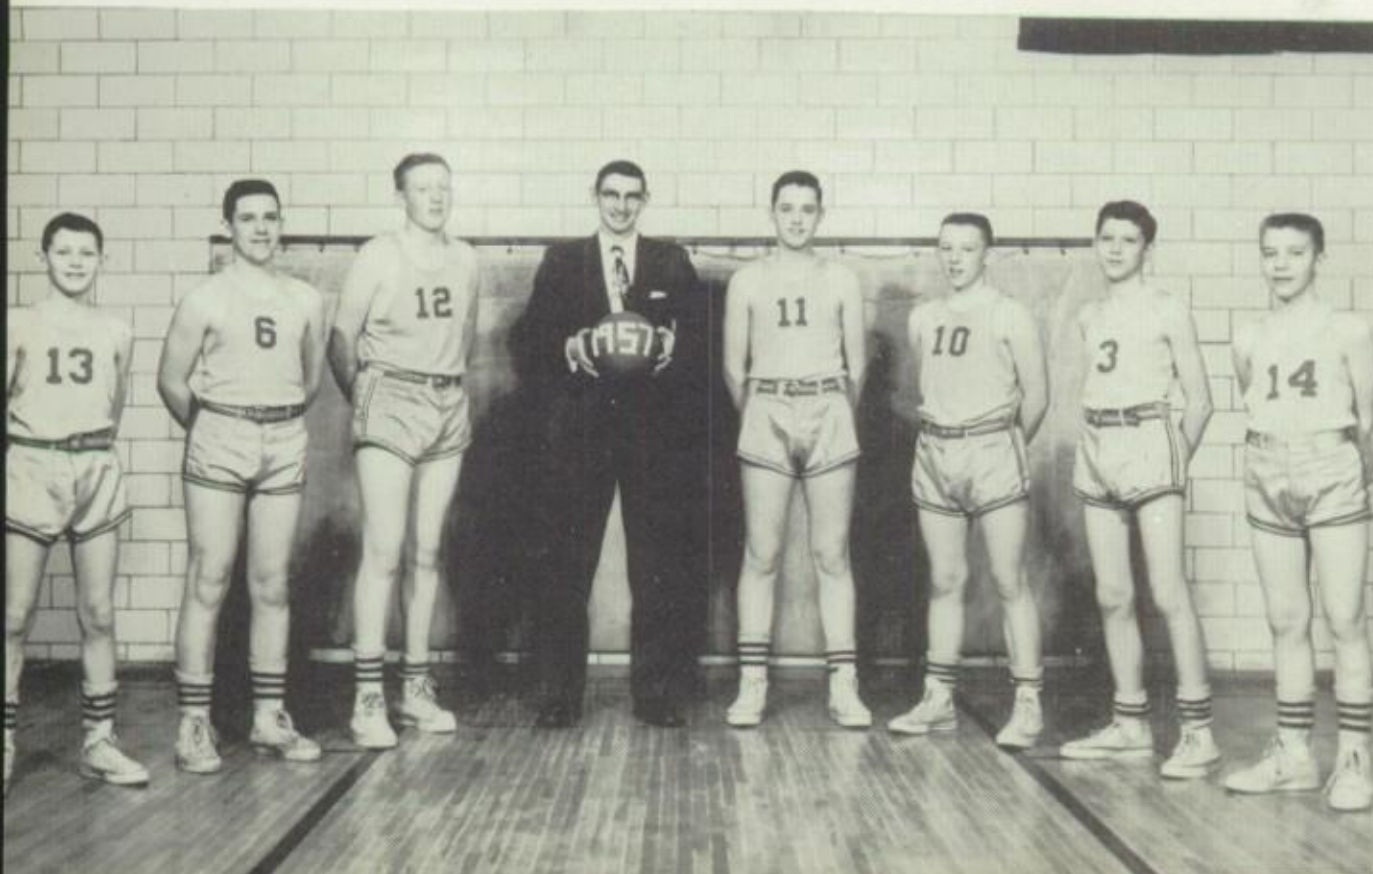

DON LAUER - (Junior) 6'0", 177 lbs., Center-Forward. Don was a short man doing a big man's job all year. His greatest asset was his rebounding ability, averaging 8 per game on defense. He also had the ability to get the ball down the floor into scoring position quickly. His defensive ability was excellent as time and again he was matched with good "big men." Don's fine attitude and rugged play will be a great help to the team next year.

Lettermen

Milan Kardatzke - Milan was chosen this year's Captain because of his leadership ability and his desire to work for a better track team.

John Marsh - John has been a very valuable asset to the team due to his pole vaulting ability. He also discovered that he was able to high jump very well.

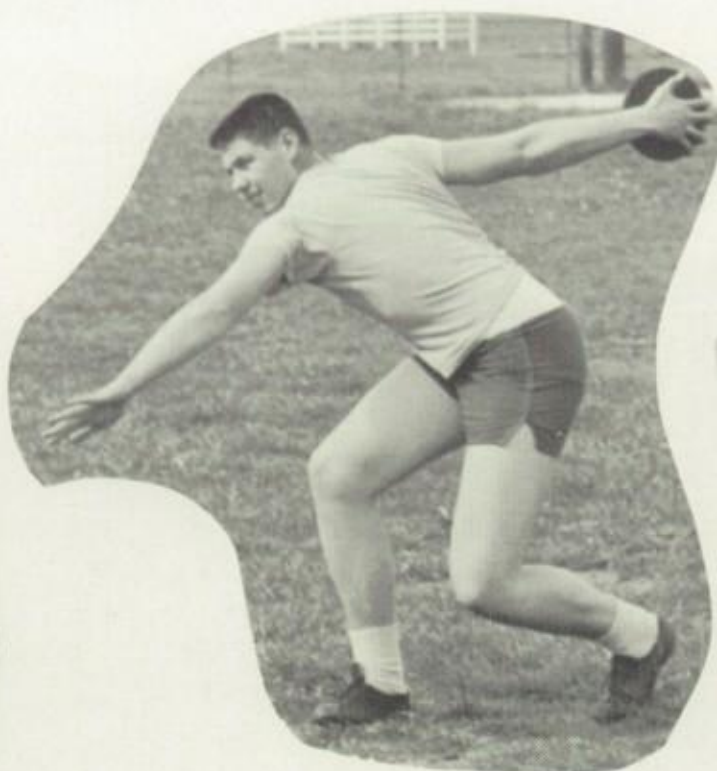

John Votaw - John's favorite field event was the high jump and his favorite track event was the 100 yd. dash.

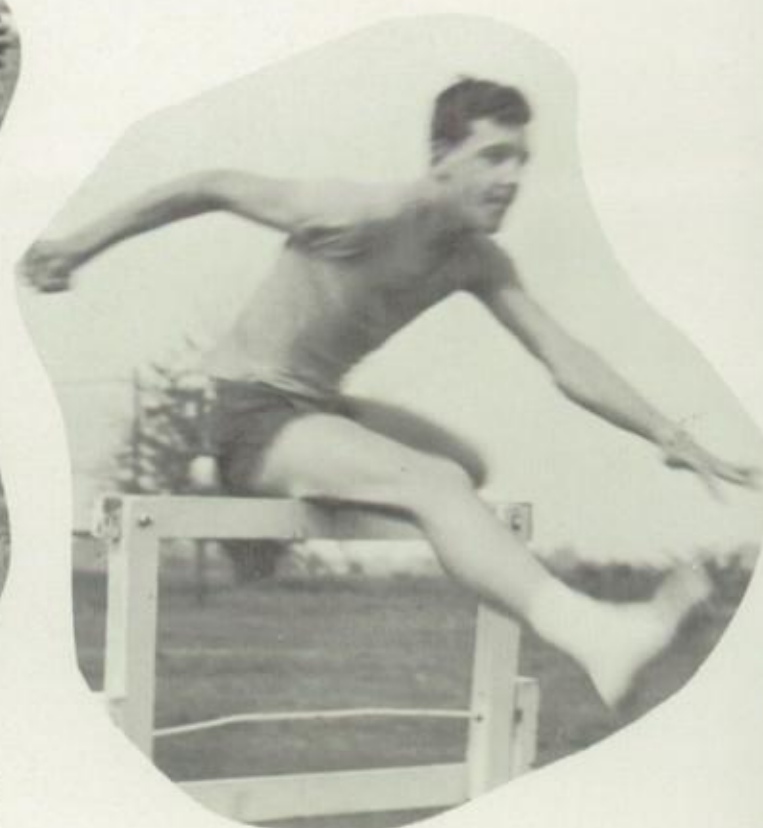

Harold Semrock - Early in the season Harold injured his ankle during practice, but he had earned his letter at the first track meet.

Rex Ohl - Rex came out for track later in the season, but proved his ability by placing 4th in the Sandusky Bay Conference and 4th in the Bowling Green District throwing the shot put.

Gary Anderson - Gary threw both the discus and the shot, but his specialty was the discus. He placed 4th in the Sandusky Bay Conference in the discus.

David Haar - Dave was a hurdle man, running both the lows and the highs. Dave still has another year in which to display his abilities.

Marching Band

THE 1957 HARRIS-ELMORE MARCHING BAND

Life would be dull and uninteresting if new challenges did not present themselves. The 56-57 marching band was not to be excluded when the challenge presented itself in Harris-Elmore.

Their pre-game entrances have become a tradition and were expected and respected by the fans. But, precision marching combined with classical selections and dancing combined with favorite top tunes of today and yesterday were worked into pleasant, entertaining half-time programs. The band also marched in the Annual Toledo Christmas Parade.

Danny Magsig.

Soloists

Ruth Ann Longenecker was awarded a II rating at Tiffin at the District Music Contest. Her soprano solo was entitled "The Lotus Flower."

Beverly Barshel played "Clair de Lune" as her contest number. She also received a II rating.

Betty Boss received a II rating on her trumpet solo, "The Stars in the Velvety Sky."

Cadet Band

Vocal Ensembles

The Senior Girls' Ensemble went to state and district music contests. At each contest they received a I rating.

Not shown is the mixed ensemble. They were awarded a II rating at the district contest. Alice Avers, Jim Bolander, Linden Damschroder, Jim Derickson, Karen Hetrick, Patti James, Jim Magsig, and Susan Schwemberger were members of this group.

Alice Bay, Harry Blausey, Linden Damschroder, Margaret Kontak, Ruth Longenecker, Jim Magsig, Lynda Semrock, and John Votaw were selected from the Mixed Chorus to attend the Heidelberg Choral Festival in the spring. The group performed for the Mixed Chorus Concert in May.

Our Director

Mr. Butts

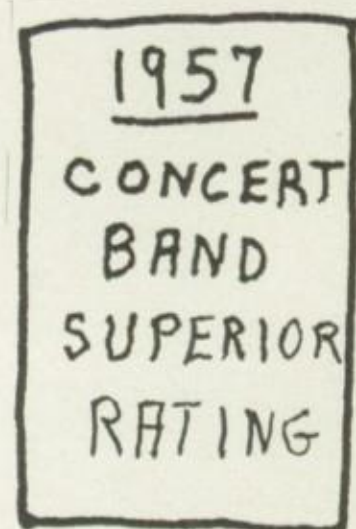

The members of the 1957 Concert Band and the 1957 Marching Band wish to thank Mr. Butts for his patience and interest in the welfare of his student.

As a result of his hard work, the band received a Superior rating at the District Contest and a Superior rating at the State Contest.

The Student Director of the band this year was Jim Magsig.

The Student Director of the Mixed Chorus was Linden Damschroder.

The 1957 Concert Band has had a very prosperous and successful season this year. Under its capable officers elected by the band members, many events have taken place.

The band performed for the following events the past year:

SPRING BAND CONCERT AND OPEN HOUSE

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

DISTRICT BAND CONTEST (Superior Rating)

STATE BAND CONTEST (Superior Rating)
